Kansas Letter. A subscriber in Kansas writes us as follows, under date of May 6th:

Ma. Editor—I left Duncannon, Perry co., Pa., March 11th, and arrived at the city of Lawrence, Kansas, the 13th. I was pleased with this country and very much surprised to find such good soil here and the land so cheap. The wheat here beats all that I ever saw and a large crop is expected. It is all in heads and some four feet in height; harvest here will commence soon.

Corn is not so good in the start. Some was planted near the middle of April but it looks as if it will not amount to much. What was planted later, is up but the Stars, or Blackbirds are so numerous here that they pull it all up.

I find lots of Pennsylvania folks here but not one Penna. paper among them. I could not do without a home paper and think every family should take one paper. I am certain that I get four times the cost of it out of the New Bloomfield Times.

Your sincere reader, O. B. WEAVER.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

About ten panes of stained window glass were broken in the M. E. Church at Shippensburg last week, from the effect of blasting stone.

A bull raised by Mr. Cramer, of Hope-well twp., weighing eighteen hundred pounds, was shipped from Newville last week.

Mr. James M'ulloch, of Penn twp., report says, lost three horses by a singularly fatal and contagious disease, which is prevailing in that neighborhood.

Mrs. Michael Leibly died suddenly at her residence, on West Louthier Street, on Monday afternoon. She was well advanced in years.

The whole number of schools in Cumberland county at the close of the school year, ending June 1, 1877, was 231; whole number of teachers, 235; average number of scholars attending school, 6,629; total expenditures, $84,236.76.

On Thursday night last, Mr. David M'Creary, of Shippensburg, stopping at the National Hotel in Chambersburg, made a narrow escape from death by suffocation. On retiring for the night he blew out, instead of turning off, the gas jet. The smell of the escaping gas did not attract attention until about ten o'clock Friday morning, when an entrance was made into a room by a window. The Local says Mr. M'Creary was found lying on the bed unconscious from the effect of the gas and in a dangerous condition. Medical aid was at once summoned and every means resorted to for his relief, by which, at this writing, he is slowly recovering, and is considered out of danger.
